

There's still time to apply for Masked, a touring visual arts exhibition featuring Vermont artists with disabilities.

Inclusive Arts Vermont invites Vermont visual artists with disabilities to participate in Masked, an exhibition an exhibition of works to travel statewide through April 2023. The exhibition will begin its statewide tour in early January 2022. Applications are due by September 1, 2021.

Artists are asked to submit works that represent their interpretation of the theme of Masked. Like many words, “masked” has nuanced and layered meanings. Inclusive Arts Vermont encourages artists to interpret the theme and its meaning as broadly as it takes to inspire their creativity.

The exhibition will be curated by a panel made up of Inclusive Arts Vermont staff, as well as community members. We are proud to collaborate with this curation team that includes individuals from disability, BIPOC, and creative communities representing a variety of perspectives, experiences, and identities.
