

Making magic through the arts since 1986.

Dear Friends,

I am reaching out to you because you understand that there are underserved artists in our community. And even more so, that artists with disabilities are largely underrepresented.

An artist whose work has now been featured in three of our exhibits recently shared with us that through our exhibitions, they feel empowered, celebrated, and connected.

But this wasn't always the case.

For many artists, often their work is tokenized by people unwilling to look beyond disability.

Or their work is accepted, but the artist does not have the financial means to get a piece professionally framed because poverty among those with disabilities is so prevalent.

Or even still, they can't attend the opening reception of their own show because it's not at an accessible venue.

We have an answer to this but can't solve the problem without your support.

Your gift today of $50 will provide the opportunity for an underserved artist with a disability to connect themselves and their work with thousands of people.

Give today. Give generously. Support disabled artists.

In gratitude,
